HEC Montréal

HEC Montréal, the affiliated Business School of the Université de Montréal, is a French university offering internationally renowned management education and research in French, English and Spanish. In HEC Montréal's modern, dynamic and wired environment, every single detail, even the architecture, has been carefully considered to make learning and growing as individuals easier for students. Committed to sustainable development on all fronts, HEC Montréal and its faculty are eager to pass on sound values to tomorrow's managers.

It is known for its international atmosphere, with one third of the students and 40% of the academics coming from abroad, and has a multilingual approach to business education with bilingual (French and English) and trilingual (French, English and Spanish) bachelor's degrees, and graduate degrees both in English and in French.

The School was the first in North America to be awarded the three most prestigious international accreditations in its field: AMBA, AACSB International and EQUIS.
