ISCID-CO

Institut Supérieur de Commerce International de Dunkerque (ISCID-CO) opened in 2012 from the merger between ISCID, created in 1985 and ESCIP, created in 1991 by Arc International. The school has two campuses - ISCID-CO Dunkirk (located in the university of Dunkirk) and ISCID-CO Longuenesse (near Saint-Omer). ISCID-CO aims to train tomorrow's managers in multiculturalism and the demands of the internal environment in three or five years.

The school offers two training cycles- Bachelor cycle and Post-Graduate Degree cycle.

The fundamental mission of the school is to do everything possible to ensure the professional success of its future graduates. The school's pedagogy promotes the academic, professional and personal development of students, a real guarantee of quality integration into the job market.

The strength of ISCID-CO also lies in the richness of its teaching and teaching staff. The staff are made up of both university speakers (teachers and research professors) and professional executives from companies.
