

College of Charleston

College of Charleston

Founded in 1770, the College of Charleston is the oldest educational institution south of Virginia, and the 13th oldest in the United States. The college focuses on giving its students a broad knowledge base prior to choosing their major towards the end of second year. Charleston has eight schools, and an acclaimed marine biology course.

Over 10,000 undergraduates and approximately 1,000 graduate students at the College enjoy a small-college feel blended with the advantages and diversity of a mid-sized, urban university. The school offers more than 240 student clubs and organizations so students will be able to find their interest.

College of Charleston has over 140 international students from 34 different countries and offers their students a wide range of subjects including Accounting, Biology, Business Administration, History, International Business, Music, Political Science, and Psychology.
